

Matoshri shantabai Gote Art's, Comm. & sci. college, Washim

Department of Geography

PO, PSO & CO

On the completion of courses the students are able to:

1. CO 1: To acquire the knowledge of nature, scope, various branches, natural phenomena, natural disasters, environmental hazards, atmosphere Global warming and physical division of India and Maharashtra
2. CO 2: To understand and learn to explain Physical Geography and Human Geography
3. CO 3: Identify the different materials on the Earth, solar system, Earth's rotation, movements of the earth, landscapes, the structure, function of the climatology, population and crops.
4. CO 4: Describe the skills of map reading, different types of agriculture factors to the tourism, causes of pollution, etc.
5. CO 5: Evaluate the exogenous process of landscape, dynamic aspect economic geography, an allied area in agriculture, the interior of the Earth, circulation of oceanic water, the drainage system in India, etc.
6. CO 6: Suggest methods of disasters management; interpret topo sheets, contour maps, map projection, ICT role in practical Geography, etc.

On the completion of B.A. Geography the student are able to :

7. PSO 1: Apply qualitative and quantitative techniques in data analysis on natural disasters, environmental hazards, atmosphere Global warming, physical and human geography, tourism etc.
8. PSO 2: To read, interpret, and generate catalogues, maps by the use of the knowledge of Geography.
9. PSO 3: Through the observation, the students forecast natural disasters, effects of the lunar and solar eclipses, earthquakes, volcanoes, population, migrations and urbanizations.
10. PSO 4: Apply modern GIS and map-making tools, industrial, transport and in trade activities, causes and measure of control, etc.
11. PSO 5 Evaluate the importance of latitude, longitude, coastal environment, map and scale, statistical analyses, different materials on the Earth, Global warming, types of resources and their applications.
12. PSO 6: The students can create field investigations and reports, conduct survey socio-economic conditions.

