Employability Potential of the Program-

Political Science students have the advantage of learning and knowing about government policies, rules and regulations - knowledge that is increasingly important in today's business world. Political science graduates have even chosen careers in different sector like political parties survey, media exit-pol survey, political analytical agency, personnel, marketing, advising, banking, finance, and public relations. With some work experience, you may also find yourself able to work in both the private and public sectors.

One thing you should keep in mind is that your future employer will likely be looking for people who can do the following:

- communicate clearly, present ideas persuasively (orally or in writing)
- argue and debate constructively and respectfully
- negotiate and mediate conflicts successfully
- plan, make decisions and implement them effectively
- provide effective leadership

The study of political science can equip you with all these skills.

Obtaining a Bachelor degree there are many career opportunities. Not only does it enable you to understand the nuances of local and National politics, but you also develop analytical and critical thinking skills.

Equipped with these skills, you can find employment opportunities in central, state, or local government agencies, enter into politics, law, social services, or academia, pursue political journalism, or aim to become a civil servant/political advisor.
